

The Spiritual Significance Of Music

CRAVE FOR LIGHT

DIMITRIS TSAPAS

This question on the spiritual significance of music is very easy for me. Of course, my answer is never meant to be objectional, so I hope people will understand. Personally, without music I would be mentally dead. Like the body needs food to stay alive, the mind needs other things, and music is like food for the mind. Many kinds, many tastes, and sometimes it might make you sick, especially if there is a natural "pre-intention" for some things in music. I still wonder: "Do we write and listen to music as a "mental luxury", or is it the basic instinct of the soul that leads us to music's creation?" If we knew the answers, we would be able to create "perfect" music, but I am glad we don't. This "unknown" leads us to Crave For Light, even though deep inside we hope we'll never find the answers. In this way we can enjoy the trip music takes us through. Music is the healthiest drug! Stay Blind!
