

The Spiritual Significance Of Music

DEBAUCHERY

THOMAS

Some people say they hear God when they listen to music, some say they hear Satan, especially in reference to Heavy Metal. I hear power. Heavy Metal gives me the strength to live my life. The music is the fuel of my spirit. So this is the spiritual significance of music: fuel for the spirit. But there is another side too. Music is a catalyst for my wrath. With my music I worship the Blood God: the god of brutality and bloodshed. For me anger and wrath are important parts of Heavy Metal music. Metal is my religion and I worship the violence. So let's stop philosophy and start killing. Blood for the Blood God!
