

The Spiritual Significance Of Music

MIASMA

CINIFER VALIROS

Music and art is a reflection of the soul, much like the canvas of your skin with symbolic tattoos upon it. Music and art are both a tool and weapon of propaganda for ones spiritual practices and beliefs. I can only speak for myself on this subject, so when I make music I am focusing on my spiritual path completely. Being a Satanist means that my music is also completely Satanic. Personal issues or subjects are of no interest to me. If you truly believe in your spiritual path, it will show in everything you do, not just art. The time comes when your spiritual path is all that matters and everything else turns to dust. For me the sole reason of creating anything is to propagate the Satanic will and sinister path.
